Annie is a well known watercolorist, noted for her innovative approaches to the watercolor medium and for her energetic, entertaining and inspiring teaching methods. She is most helpful to water media artists who would like to get “unstuck” and to “free up” their work.

Mostly self-taught, she encourages “applying the principles”, but not following the “rules”.

Annie can be seen now in a series of short videos on Public Television titled THE WONDERS OF WATERCOLOR (KRCB 22)which will be up-linked to nearly 300 PBS stations in the nation on July, 18.2012,

She is now working on the production of a half-hour TV series.

To see these videos, and get a preview of what you will experience in the workshops, go to her website <http://www.anniemurphyspringer.com/pbs.php>.
